1. The designs Buero of the Main Administration for Highways is located on Dircksenstrasse, Berlin C 2, and maintains branch offices at Schwerin, Potsdam, Halle, Erfurt and Dresden. The Designs Buero is in charge of all highways and highway bridges, including bridges on Autobahnen. Prior to January 1955, Dipl. Ing. Schmidt (fnu) had been chief of the bureau. Schmidt formerly was chief of the "Strassenbauinspektion" (Highway Inspectorate) at Dessau.

25X1

He tried to get the authority to design all highways and roads, including factory roads, built on behalf of the GDR Ministry of the Interior and the Wismut AG in his designs bureau, where he wanted to assemble all experts in the field of highway and highway bridge construction.

2. Schmidt was replaced by Dymke (fnu)

3. The Acceptance Control Agency of the Main Administration for Highways (Guetekontrolle) has its headquarters at Potsdam - Babelsberg. All preliminary and advanced designs in the field of highway construction are checked at this headquarters regarding their merits and are provided there with a so-called quality stamp. Only the Scientific Technical Council of the State Planning Commission can take exception to approval given to a design by the Guetekontrolle agency. The statical calculations for difficult bridge construction are also checked by the Acceptance Control agency, which is headed by Dipl. Ing. Roesmer (fnu).

Roesmer previously was chief of the Bridge Department of the Main Administration for Highways. In this capacity he was replaced by one Schild (fnu).
